

Following a year of strong growth, Nexia S&A is launching a new strategic cycle, adopting a new governance structure to accelerate its development

Nexia S&A, an independent audit, consulting and accounting Group, announces revenues in excess of €75 million for the 2024-2025 financial year, rising by 9.6% compared to the previous year. This achievement confirms a sustained and steady growth dynamic year after year.

In light of these results, the group starts a new phase of its development. The renewal of its governance is part of a clear ambition: accelerate each services line growth by strengthening its value proposition for its clients.

Growth driven by consulting and transformation

In an economic environment marked by increasingly complex financial, regulatory and technological challenges, Nexia S&A has confirmed the strength of its multidisciplinary model. Momentum is particularly strong for Operational Advisory division (+20.3%), driven by finance transformation advisory services and data management.

The Group's traditional businesses demonstrate strong results as well: Audit (+12.9%) benefits from the increasing importance of sustainability issues and the certification of non-financial reporting requirements, while Accounting (+6.4%) is consolidating its position with mid-cap companies and SMEs.

To support this change of scale, the group has now 600 employees and is beginning its regional expansion with a strategic location in the city of Lyon.

New governance to accelerate growth

Elected by the firm partners for a five-year term, the new management team officially takes its office under the chairmanship of Olivier Juramie. The new Management Board is structured around four Managing Partners:

- Jérôme Cayroche (Partnership management and coordination)
- Jean-Baptiste Hervet (Business development)
- Fabrice Huglin (Strategic Projects and Financial Advisory)
- Philippe Mendes (Operations and Business Services)

Six Partners complements this governance to form the group's Executive Committee, organized around key areas of expertise:

- Sandrine Gimat: ESG
- Bettina Koegler: Talent management
- Eric Chapus: Audit
- Fabien Fert: Cross-functional roles
- Jean-Benoît Monnais: Operational Advisory business
- Stéphane Tuvi: E-invoicing solutions

This team will continue the strategy deployed by Nexia S&A over the last few years and confirms its purpose: provide 360°, innovative and comprehensive solutions to meet the challenges faced by corporate finance departments. As a mid-cap companies and listed groups partner, the group reinforces its multidisciplinary services proposal to support its sustained growth ambition.

"Our ambition is clear and assumed: support top management team and finance departments in all their transformations, while taking Nexia S&A to a next level of development. The growth of our consulting activities and sustainability related challenges, data and digitalisation of finance functions are deeply transforming our market. So let's grow together." says Olivier Juramie, Nexia S&A chairman.

Towards 2030: growth, innovation and people

Nexia S&A is now embarking on a new strategic cycle based on four pillars:

- strengthening support for SMEs and mid-cap companies in their growth and structuring challenges, in France and worldwide;
- developing a regional network, with Lyon as the first structural step;
- increasing the integration of technology, data and AI at the heart of processes to optimize high value-added assignments;
- an HR policy focused on talent development and an entrepreneurial culture for the partnership.

As a member of the international Nexia network, operating in more than 120 countries, the firm supports its clients in their cross-border projects and global transformations.
